Third and Fourth districts are still in doubt and claimed by both.

CHARLESTON (W. VA.), Nov. 9.—Official information received at the State House says Fieming (Dem.) is elected. It is now believed that the Kealublicans have elected three out of four Congressmen, with the fourth in doubt. In every county and precinct the Republicans gained. The Legislature is doubtful. It may be a tie, with Carr (Greenback) having the deciding vote on joint ballot. The Republicans claim everything.

WHERLING (W. Va.), Nov. 9.—Forty counties show a net Republican gain of 4046. The remaining 14 counties will at the same ratio give the Republicans a gain of 799, which would give the State to the Republicans by 624 majority.

CALL ORNIA

The Count Incomplete—The Hepub-licans Far in the Lead.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—[By the Asso-ciated Press, In California the Republi-cans claim a plurality of fully 10,000. The returns indicate the election of Beatty an Sullivan for Chief and Associate Chief Justices of the Supreme Court. Two hundred and twenty-two thousand two fundred and eighty-one votes had been canvassed in California this morning. This includes the entire vote of San Franc with the exception of nine precincts, which will not be obtained for several days. It also includes the vote of 1123 interior precincts out of a total of 1590. The result of the vote, as far as counted, is as follows: Harrison 113,576, Cleveland 104,615, Fisk 4059, Curtis 1031.

The result of the Congressional elections in the summed up as follows: McKenni (Rep.) and Vandever (Rep.) are undoubt (Rep.) and vandever (Rep.) are undoubtedly rediected in the Third and Sixth Districts respectively. There is also little doubt that Morrow (Rep.) is rediected in the Fourth District, as he has now a plurality of 600, with very few precincts to hear from. Biggs (Dem.) has a plurality of nearly 1200 in the Second District, and his rediection is considered extern. In the Fifth, the contest is very close, and both parties are claiming the election. In the First District, De Haven (Rep.) has a plu rality of nearly 200 over Thompson (Dem.) and eight other counties from which re-turns are only partial. In the Fifth District, from which also returns are incomplete, Clunie (Dem.) is leading Phelps (Rep.) by Cleveland, 28,476; Harrison, 25,659; Curtis, 273; Fisk, 62; scattering, 14.

In the Fourth Congressional District Morrow (Rep.) has 13,350, Ferral (Dem.) 12,983. In the Fifth Congressional District Pheips (Rep.) has in this city 12,926, Clunie (Dem.) 13,875, giving Clunie a purality in this city of 949. Pheips's plurality in San Mateo, Santa Clara and Santa Cruz countles is 690, with three precincts in San Mateo to hear from. This shows that Clunie has a net plurality in the eatire district of 259, and his election is considered certain.

Works 1770, Searles 1737, Suilivan 1769. For Congress, Vandever 1724, Terry 1750. Bulletins will now be confined to complete returns from counties. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.-Complete re SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.—Complete returns from this city, with the exception of one precinct, show that the Republicans have elected the Sheriff, County Clerk, Tax Collector, one police judge, one justice of the peace, one supervisor and two school directors. All other city and county offices are carried by the Democrats by majorities ranging from 1000 to 6000.

For Justices Supreme Court Searles has a majority of 4000 over Beatty, and Sullivan has a majority of more than 8000 over Works.

Morrow (Rep.) is reflected to Congress in the Fourth District by a plurality of 348. In the Fifth District, including the vote of the three outlying counties, with three predicts to hear from, Clunie (Dem.), for Congress, has 20,822, Phelps (Rep.) has 20,731.

MURCHISON'S LETTER DID IT. POMONA, Nov. 9.—The Republicans had a wild joilification tonight, and one which has never been equaled here. Seven hundred dollars was subscribed for illuminations and the other expenses. There were 1800 men in line with torches and transparencies. One of the latter had the inscription, "Murchison's letter from Pomona helped Cleveland out of the White House."

SAN DIEGO'S VOTE.
SAN DIEGO, Nov. 9.—Corrected returns show Harrison's plurality in the county. with five precincts not in, to be 1522. Works's plurality in the county is 1635. All the Republicans are elected but Russell for sheriff, who is 124 behind.

PRESSING CLUNIZ CLOSELY. SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 9.-Returns fro the Fifth Congressional District, with the exception of two precincts in San Mateucounty, give Phelps (Kep.) 20,040 and Clunie (Dem.) 19,769.

INDIANA.

Gen. Harrison's Piurality in the State
About 2500
INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.—[By the Association of the Control of t

INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 9.— By the Associated Press.] In the Eighth District E. V. Brookshire (Dem.) defeats James T. Johnson (Rep.) for Congress by 65 majority. This is a Democratic gain.

Official returns from all precincts show that Gen. Harrison carried the city of Indianapolis by a plurality of 156. Official resturns from Marion county, including the city of Indianapolis, give a total vote of 35,112, against 29,265 in 1884. Cleveland has 17,517; Harrison, 17,129; Fisk, 590; Streeter, 57. Cleveland's piurality is 373, against 226 piurality for Blaine in 1884. It is pretty definitely settled that Gen. Harrison's plurality will be about 2500. The official figures will probably not be known for several days yet, as only three counties have been received by the Secretary of State. The entire Republican State ticket is elected, from Governor down to the Reporter of the Supreme Court.

The General has expressed decided opposition to the coming of delegations for the purpose of congratulating him. Congratulations by letter, he says, will receive prompt attention. A delegation from Madison county called on him today, and tonight he was serenaded by the saw makers of this city. In response to a call for a speech, he said:

There were two issues in this State that must yet be decided—the proper restriction of the liquor traffic and the proper protection of the ballot. He is a lawyer and journaist, and lived in Indianapolis till a few years ago, when he became Fifth Auditor of the Treasurer, which place he resigned when Cieveland was elected. He has been with Gen. Harrison in a confidential capacity since the opening of the campaign, and won the latter's estern and confidence.

ision of Judge Cheney That Settles the Question-A Center Shot at This Disreputable Element That Will Drive Them Out.

A writ of certiorari was applied for by the counsel representing Edward Kane to the Superior Court, in the case entitled Kane vs. H. C. Austin, Justice of the Peace

Kane vs. H. C. Austin, Justice of the Peace of Los Angeles city.

Kane had been arrested upon a charge of vagrancy, and, upon being called for trial, demanded a jury, which Justice Austin denied. The trial was being proceeded with without a jury when application was made to the Superior Court for a writ of certiorari.

After the preliminary business of the day had been disposed of yesterday in Department No. 1, Judge Cheney rendered the following oral decision in the case frem the bench:

In the case of Kane vs. Justice H. C. Austin, on a writ of certiorari, the briefs were not handed to the Court until day before yesterday, and this is the earlest opportunity we have had to decide the case. We will not take time to prepare a written opinion, inasmuch as at least two of the Superior Courts of this State have rendered dresions which have already been handed down and published covering substantially the same grounds. Inasmuch as our view of the question involved is almost precisely the same as 'heirs, perhaps differing in some minor particulars, all the conclusions being the same, we did not deem it necessary to multiply words in the matter by reducing it to a written opinion.

The question raised by this proceeding is whether a party arrested for vagrancy under the provisions of the Penal Code is entitled to a jury trial or not. We do not deem it necessary to take up time in passing upon the question whether the writ of certiorari will lie or not in this case, being of the decided opinion that it will under the valous decisions of our Supreme Court; therefore we come directly to the question of whether a party arrested for varrancy under section 647 of the Penal Code is entitled to a trial by jury on not.

It is claimed by the plaintiff herein, Kane, that by reason of the provision of the Constitution, article 1, section 7, he is entitled to a trial by jury.

That section and article read as follows: "The right of trial by jury shall be secured to all, and remain inviolate. A trial by jury may be waived in all criminal cases not amounting to felony by the consent of both parties expressed in epen court."

It is also claimed by counsel for defendant Kane, in the criminal proceeding in the court below, that even though he may not have had a constitutional right to strial by jury, the still the Legislature, in providing the procedure for the trial of passes of vagrancy, has given a right to trial by jury, that still the Legislature, in providing the procedure for the right of trial by jury. That is the hands of the Court very careful attention.

There exists no right of trial by jury in this class of cases. Under the Constitution it is provided that the right of trial by jury shall be secured to all, and the Legislature proceed by statute to declare what shall be felonies and misdemeanors, and what shall be the procedure for trial. In section 689, Penal Code, we read: "No person can be convicted of a public offense unless by the verdict of a jury, accepted and recorded by the Court, or upon a plea of gailty, or upon judgment against him upon a demurrer in the case mentioned in section 1011, or upon a judgment of a court, a jury having been waived, in a criminal case not amounting to a felony."

At first glance that would seem to be an

At first glance that would seem to be an expression of the Legislature strong enough and broad enough in its declaration to cover a vagrancy case; but we are compelled to construe the section of the Penal Code in the light of the Constitution. Now, the words: "No person can be convicted of a public offense unless by the verdict of a public offense unless by the verdict of a pury." or expressions used under the guid. the words: "No person can be convicted of a public offense unless by the verdict of a jury," are expressions used under the guidance of a constitutional provision, "the right of trial by jury shall be secured to all." The word all would seem to cover everybody: but it does not give to all persons the right of trial by jury, and the question arises: Who are the all that are referred to, and what is the right of trial by jury that is guaranteed? Unquestionably the right is to such persons as were entitled to it at common law. The code section is: "No person can be convicted of a public offense unless by the verdict of a jury." In construing this we must do so in the light of our Constitution. No person entitled to this established right of trial by jury (that is the common-law right) can be convicted of a judy. In the conting the Legislatura put into class of cases.

Even if we admit that the Legislature may enlarge the scope of the Constitution, that is to say, may de those things that are not forbidden by the Constitution, it being but a limitation of their powers and rights, we still think that the courts would not be authorized to strain the statute for the purpose of making it so enlarge the scope of the Constitution as to grant such a "right" as this.

And in order to conclude that the Legislature intended that this class of cases should be entitled to trial by jury, the court would be compelled to so strain the construction of the statute.

We are glad to say we do not stand alone in these views. We believe Judge Murphy of San Francisco and Judge Keysor of Tuba have held the same way; and holding such views the proceedings in the court below are affirmed, and the defendant is ordered remanded to the court below for further proceedings.

Judge Cheney's decision gives general satisfaction to every pure-minded man and woman in this city, and strikes terror satisfaction to every pure-minded man and woman in this city, and strikes terror to the heart of every bummer and "mac" in town.

The effect of Judge Cheney's decision is that a petty court has the right to try a "vag" with or without a jury, according to the court's own judgment.

In the past these gambiers, "macs," bummers and vagabonds, who have no visible means of support, have been allowed to demand a jury trial.

Now, it is a well-known fact that this class of criminals have had a swing with the officers who gather in jurles, and in nine cases out of ten the criminal would have enough of his own class on the jury to either hank it or give him a werdlet.

Under the jury system the arresting officers have been unable to get a conviction once in six months, and the consequence is that the city has filled up with the lowest class of scamps on God's footstool.

There are today over 300 gambiers and "macs" in this city, and they have boasted openly that no officer can convict them, and they have gone on collecting money from the shame of fallen women until many of them have accumulated from $10,000 to $20,000 worth of city property.

They do nothing but play cards and collect the earnings of their female slaves.

But a change must take place very soon now if the justices of the city courts have backbone enough to stand up and sentence these people to a good term in the chain gang.

"All of them can pay a big fine," said an old police officer, who has been a terror to "macs," to a Times' reporter, last night, "and if the courts do not give them a long term in the chain gang they will put up their fines and go right back to their disgraceful business. I don't know whether the courts will give these people the kind of fine they deserve, but I know very well that it is the only way to suppress them and rid the city of their disgraceful presence.

"These people have a plenty of money, and they are not at all backward about spending large sums on the best legal talent in the city, and if there is any chance for them it very hot for them during the next lew weeks.

"The city government affects their interests more than the county, and they will strain every serve to elect Democrats who are friendly to them, and there are lots of Democrats of the upper crust in this city who have to stand in with maca and gambles or give up all hope of office.

"The police officers, with the assistance of the justices of the peace, can soon rid the city of this objectionable class under Judge Cheney's ruling, and I hope the slaughter will begin at once."

MESSRS. STEVENS & BRUNER. MONFOR, N. C.

Dear Sirs: About two months ago, on your recommendation, I bought a bottle of CUTTCURA RESOLVENT, one box CUTI-OURA SALVE and one cake of CUTI-CURA SOAP, for my son, aged thirteen years, who has been afflicted with eczems for a long time, and I am pleased to say that I believe the remedies have cured him. His sufferings were intense his head being nearly raw, his ears being gone except the gristle, and his body was covered with sores. His condition was frightful to behold. The sores have now all disappeared, his shin is healthy, eyes bright, cheerful in disposition, and is working every day. My neighbors are witnesses to this remarkable cure, and the doubting ones are requested to call or write me, or any of my neighbors.

A BLAZE

That Threatened Great Damage, but Did Little.

Last evening shortly before 7 o'clock a dense volume of smoke was seen issuing from the rear of the Roeder block, our boring street, next to the Nadeau Hotel. At a short distance it looked as though the hotel was on fire, and in a few moments an order. hotel was on fire, and in a few moments i immense crowd had gathered at the corn of First and Spring streets. A number immense crowd had gathered at the corner of First and Spring streets. A number of police officers were on hand, however, promptly and kept them back, while the fire department ran their lines of bose upstairs and through the halls to the rear of the building, and in a short time had several streams piaying on the burning structure, which was the old frame blacksmith shop of Mr. Roeder, occupied for some time past by the C-mmeroial Builetin Printing Company and a small job office owned by F. C. Cully. The building was a very old one and being a mere shell there was no hope of saving it, so the firemen confined their efforts to saving the adjulning property, succeeding so well that, with the exception of the rear portion of E. Adams's clothing store and the workroom of Mosgrove's clock house, really no damage was done outside the house where the fire originated. It was, however, a very close shave, and had there been any what the result would in all probability have been disastrous. As it was, it was one of the quickest fires on record, and when the surroundings are taken into consideration it is almost a miracle that a great configeration was averted.

When the alarm was first acumoded and it

When the alarm was first sounded, and it was seen where the fire was, there was some confusion among the guests, and a number of them packed up their effects and got out their trunks. They were soon quieted, and the lines of hose in the house, six in number, were manned and streams of water played on the exposed portions of the building. The fi-mes were quickly subdued and in an hour everything was moving along as usual, a few damp carpets in the upper halls being the only evidence that anything out of the general run had eccurred.

The Reeder block was occupied by offices and as a lodging-house, and was not damaged to any extent, a few articles having been broken in running the hose through the building, with some slight damage by smoke and water.

were the Commercial Bulletin Company, their loss being total. Very fortunately the issue for the present week had been taken to the bindery before the fire, and will be out as usual this moraing. The Company carried $1000 neurance in the Franklin Insurance Company of Pennsylvania, but their loss is very much more. A new plant will be purchased at once, and the paper will be purchased as usual.

Cully's job office was also totally destroyed. He has some insurance, but it will not cover his loss.

E. Adam also suffered considerable damage, the rear of his store being burned out. The fire was stopped, however, before it got into the front part, where his most expensive stock was kept. Mr. Adams's loss will probably amount to $3000, which is covered by insurance.

Mosgrove's loss is fully covered by insurance, only his workroom being damaged.

All the horses in the Eagle stable, in the rear of the fire, were turned out into the street, all of which were afterward recovered, except one, a rather small black horse. Mr. White, the proprietor, received a severe cut on the head from being thrown against one of the stalls.

As TO THE ORIGIN. TH PRINCIPAL LOSERS

AS TO THE ORIGIN of the fire nothing is known. It was at first supposed that it started in a pile of rubbish in the rear of Elila's drug store, but this could not be ascertained as a fact. It had already g ined great headway before it was discovered, and burned so rapidly that nothing could be found out about how it started.

Card or thanks.

We desire to express our thanks to the efficient fire department, police officers and friends, whose timely assistance and good work saved the Nadeau Hotel and its con ents last evening. Respectfully, CHASE & MAYNES, Proprietors.

That seems to be a very small tail trying to way a pretty effect of their vote has been felt in the effect of their vote has been felt in the moral tone of the city ever since seems well based, for, under a Democratic Council (an "effect" of their votes) the selections have a little more votes) the saloons have a little more than doubled!

A BOHEME OF ANSCHLAGS TO CREAT THE GALLOWS.

with Enough of a Fatal Drug to Kill Haif a Dozen Men-The Fuer

Anschlag, the Garden Grove butcher, when he was sentenced to death, declared that he would never be hung, and has always persisted in declaring, when the subject was mentioned, that he would yet cheat the gallows. Several months ago he made an attempt to dig out of his cell, but was discovered before he had made much progress, and removed to another cell. When his case was before the Supreme Court he was taken out of the condemned cell and again piced in the tanks. Then he met Wolff, the San Juan murderer, and quite an intimacy sprung up between the two men. Wolff was a drug cierk by occupation, and by some means got hold of some strychnine and gave Anschlag some, but this plot was discovered through one of the prisoners, when they were separated, and the poison was recovered by Jailer Russell. When Anschlag's case was finally settled by Anschlag's case was finally settled by the Supreme Court affirming the lower court's decision and refusing him a new trial, he was again taken out of the tanks, placed in the condemned cell, and a death-watch set over him. Since that time everthing has progressed very smoothly. Anschlag appeared to be reconciled to his fate, read his Bible, and consented to be made as much a hero as possible under the circumstances. But the butcher is a very cunning individual, and the knowledge of this fact caused Jailer Russell no little worry. Whenever he was plotting any mischlef Anschlag was always on his good behavior, and made himself particularly agreeable to visitors and prisoners. For the past day or two he has been in such good spirits, and has treated his callers so politely, that Mr. Russell was sure something was wrong, and his suspicions were confirmed yesterday afternoon, when Anschlag asked him for a glass of wine, and began to make himself at home with his attendants. The wine was given him, however, but last evening he again began to act queer, and the f-dier thought he had better have him searched. The murderer has been wearing his hunting suit, including top boots, ever since he had his picture taken, and his clothing was first thoroughly searched, but without finding anything. His bed-clothing was next examined, but nothing contraband was brought to light. At this point, another tack was taken, which resulted in turning up the poison. Some time ago, a visitor gave Anschlag half a doilar, which he spent for cigarettes. About half a dozen boxes were still under his bed, and when Anschlag saw that Russell was on the right track, he began to get very nervous. Most of the boxes were open, but one of them looked a little peculiar, and on examining it, it was found to be marked with a cross on the outside. This was enough, and the jail authorities took possession of the could not remember how it had come into his possession and pretended to know uothing about it. His ruse, however, did not help him any, fer Mr. R

Now for a season of unexampled prosperity throughout the country.

THE cabinet-makers are hard at work. It beats the "thirteen" puzzle. THE campaign mud having been carted away, how would it be to turn a little attention to First street? WEST VIRGINIA is merely the entering wedge. Next we will capture old Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee

THE next great political battle in California will be when bossism is assaulted all along the line by the friends honest popular government. That hattle is coming. THE close or the campaign and the advent of snow will start a good many eastern people on their way to South ern California. Let us be prepared to receive and entertain them.

A CITY that fails to repudiate such political vampires as Buckley and such demagogues and scoundrels as O'Donnell cannot expect to enjoy the blessings of good government. That city is San Francisco.

THE political pot, the smoke of battle, the ides of November and the other campaign weapons will now be care fully laid away in the journalistic hav lofts until 1892, when the Republicans intend to knock the solid South into

THE London fiend has again commenced his murderous operations, another woman having been found horribly mutilated in the East End of London. It is a satire upon modern civilization that such repeated outrages may be committed without detection in the largest city of the world.

JUDGE CHENEY yesterday rendered an excellent decision, which will be good news to all law-abiding citizens. It is to the effect that the class of dissolute vagrants known as "macs" is not entitled to a jury trial. This has been their great stronghold so far. Whenever one has been arrested he has claimed a jury trial, and, getting friends and sympathizers on the jury, has almost invariably succeeded in escaping. Now let a general raid be nced on these unsavory individuals. Let us purify the moral atmosof the city a little. There is much room for improvement.

A LOCAL "gernal," noted for its owl-like wisdom and asinine brilliancy yesterday informed its readers that most of the vegetables and small fruit consumed in Los Angeles come from Iowa, Utah, Nevada and Minnesota The discoverer omitted to mention the enormous shipments of early strawberries and pie plant from Point Bar row, Alaska, Labrador and Greenland. We certainly ought to be able to compete with the Arctic circle in semi ropical vegetables, and it's a good thing that the "gernal" aforesaid ha called the attention of the public to this crying evil.

REGARDING the speculations about the probability of Blaine's becoming th head of Harrison's Cabinet, a Washington special to the New York Sun

Says:

"The main consideration of importance is as to whether Harrison will not call Blaine to the head of his Cabinet. As to this point there is great diversity of opinion among Republicans here, but it is the almost unanimous wish and hope that Blaine may be let severely alone. Even his admirers say the new administration would have a better chance without Blaine than with him. Fully a dozen Cabinet slates have been promulgated here today. Taken altogether, they contain pretty nearly every Republican name of prominence in the country."

THERE is very little general concep tion of the enormous amount of railroad construction which has been in progress in the United States during the present year. While few of the principal companies have been doing much new building, still work ha been quietly in progress on hundreds of short lines, all over the country, out 6000 miles of line having been added to the railway system of the country since the 1st of January last. The Railway Age publishes a table showing the number of different lines constructed in each State and Territory, and the miles of track laid. From this it is learned that California leads sion under both these heads, having built more than twice as many lines as any other State, and constructed more miles of track. The figures are, for California, 30 lines and the next largest number of lines—13, but only laid 98 miles; the next longest mileage of track being credited to Kan-sas, with 467 miles. This is a wonder-ful showing for the Golden State. Latest Election Developments

We have no change to make in our ection table. It still stands 239 to 162, where it will, in all probability, remain. Yesterday afternoon's reports began to look as if West Virginia was going to slip from our grasp, but the latest advices confirm the decision of that State for Harrison by a small but sufficient plurality.

Our plurality in Indiana is becoming rather small, the latest estimate being 2500. There seems, however, to be no question as to that State being Republican.

The Democratic surplus in Connecticut is very small, and the official count may yet place that State in the Republican ranks.

In California, 1123 precincts, including San Francisco, out of 1590, give Harrison 112,576, Cleveland 104,615, Fisk 4059, Curtis 1031, a plurality for Harrison of 7961. It will be noticed that the Prohibition vote of the State, as far as counted, is only 4059, of which more than 25 per cent, was given by

Los Angeles county.

The latest estimates on the next House place the Republican majority at about 15. In Califordia, McKenna (Rep.) and Vandever (Lep.) are un-doubtedly reëlected in the Third and Sixth Districts respectively. There is also little doubt that Morrow (Rep.) is reëlected in the Fourth District. Biggs (Dem.) is reëlected in the Second Dis-In the Fifth District, the election of Clunie (Dem.) seems to be cer-

As already stated, the Republicans elected three out of four Congressmen in West Virginia, with the fourth in doubt. In the Eighth Indiana district the Democrats gained one by 65 votes, Brookshire defeating Johnson. There is a story affoat in Kentucky that Speaker Carlisle is to be deprived of his certificate of election, on the ground of the alleged illegality of the ballots cast for him in Campbell and Kenton counties, they being of per-forated instead of plain paper. Not much importance is, however, attached to this report.

As will be seen from our latest dispatches, the Democrats did not make quite so clean a sweep in San Francisco as was at first announced, the Republicans capturing several important The State Legislature will offices. receive from San Francisco four Democratic and one Republican Senator, and fourteen Democratic and six Republican Assemblymen, and will be Republican on joint ballot.

A peculiar phase of the San Francisco election is the large vote received by that objectionable demagogue O'Donnell, who found over 12,000 people willing to make him Mayor of the Bay City.

What California Gains.

The result of the election is of especial interest to this State, and it is very fitting that California should be found in the Republican column.

The State is just now going through a transition period. Vast productive industries have begun to grow up under a beneficient protective system. which, with the prevailing high rate of wages on this coast, could never have been started otherwise. Had the country declared for Cleveland and free trade, a severe blow would have been dealt to these industries, and the State would have been set back for a decade.

California, which has hitherto been importing almost everything she needed, will now not only raise enough to supply her own wants, but will also increase her capacity as an exporter to the leading markets of the country and the world. We shall soon supply every pound of raisins that the country needs. Our pure olive oil will soon take the place of cotton-seed oil and other adulterated compounds which have been thrust upon the consumers of the country. Our wine interest, which has had to struggle against great odds, will take a fresh start. Our lumber and wool industries will grow apace. The manufacture of sugar from beets, already commenced, will be encouraged. A hundred other industries will spring up and grow Such is but an outline of a few of the enefits which California will receive through the election of Harrison. We are safe in saying that the Republican triumph is worth millions in hard cash to this State. That is why it is fitting that Califor nia should have given Harrison a good majority, and why it would have been both anomalous and disgraceful for us to have done otherwise.

What It Means.

Having given up all hope of chang ng a defeat into a victory, a number of the Democratic organs are turning their attention to the task of belittling the importance of that victory and misrepresenting its import. It is unnecessary to review the numerous more or less trivial excuses which they bring forward to explain their rout. Suffice it to say that they all fight shy of the real reason—the refusal of a majority of the voters of the United States to sub stitute the English system of free trade for the American system of a protective tariff.

This was the clear-cut leading issue of the campaign, so recognized by all Republicans and by a majority of the Democrats, including the President On that basis the fight was made and lost by the free-traders. They cannot position evade or crawl out of their Americans want no free trade, that is the popular verdict. Let the question be considered as settled. Even the Democrats will scarcely be so foolish as to bring the issue up again. Should they do so, so much the better for the Republicans. The country will now look to the incoming administration for such wise tariff adjustment as will place American labor, industry and production in an attitude to enable them to fairly compete for their own

After the prominent fiscal questions the most important matter which will engage the attention of the Administration will be the securing to every American citizen of the right to cast his ballot without fear or hindrance, and to have his vote honestly counted That such security does not at presen exist in the Southern States is a noto rious fact, which southern Democrati papers, grown bold under a sympathiz-ing Administration, scarcely attempt to contradict. The Republicans will also be expected to handle the civil-service question in an honest, statesmanlike manner. There is a great power for good gov-ernment in the proper handling of this question. Under the present Administration it has become a farce. Servants of the people must be taught that they owe fealty to the whole people, not to a party. Such are a few of the leading problems which Gen. Harrison's administration will be called upon to face. We are confident that all these questions will be fairly and squarely met, and that in their solution but one thought will be paramount—the greatest good to the greatest number of American citizens:

Building Permits.

A building permit in this city is con strued to be in effect a permit to obstruct the street in front of the proposed building for an indefinite period. It involves not only the expulsion of the public from the sidewalk, but also from a large part of the adjoining street, and no regard whatever seem to be paid to the convenience of citizens while the work is going on. Men. women and children, for months and months, in many instances, are forced out into the wagon-way and onto the street-car tracks, to the great peril of life and limb. And this occurs most frequently on the most frequented streets—in the very heart of the city. People are willing to submit to some inconvenience in a case of this kind, but there is no sense in a builder or contractor putting the public to all the trouble he possibly can under his "permit." Very much of the work done in the street or on the sidewalk could just as well be performed in the building, or somewhere off the street.

GEN. BUTLER put the outcome of the election in very pithy and comprehensielection in very pithy and comprehensible form, when he said:

"Oh, we have beaten the English in their attack on our manufacturers and tagde markets. These have been the issues of the campaign. The parties have been England on one side, led by Clereland and West, and the American people on the other side, led by Harrison and those whe agreed with him. The outcome is particularly pleasing to me, because it settles the question of protection for many years to come, and I am still more thankful because the questions between the North and South are settled. The South, taking advantage of the amount of power they got, because of the negro population, in the House of Representatives and the Electoral College, have tried with the help of the city of New York, to ruit the North and rescue what she lost by the war. They have signally failed, and they can never make the attempt again. There will be two new States, Dakota and Montana, and that will settle the control of the Senate. A single other thing I am glad to find, and that is that the Irishmen have found who their true friends are. The trief is the property of the prope ble form, when he said:

THE Pasadena returns, as published in yesterday's TIMES, contained material errors in the fourth precinct, into which errors we were inadvertently The printed vote on head of drawn. the ticket was: Harrison, 1058; Cleve-land, 340; Fisk, 130. The true vote Harrison, 288; Cleveland, 100; Fisk, 55, making Harrison's plurality in the county 3648, with four precincts yet to hear from. The correction changes the footings on the other candidates.

from Downey sang "Within a Mile of Edinboro Town" with great delicacy and expression.

Miss Pearlie Gleason, a talented miss of 19 years, recited "The Ride of Paul Revere," and won great applause.

Bobble Burns, covered with medals of silver and gold, danced the Highland Fing with the grace and poetry of motion which seems innate to the boy. Gregor McDonald, in full Highland costume, played the pipes while Robble danced as he had once danced before the Queen at Osborne.

Miss Anna Pendieton sang the ever-welcome "Blue Bells of Scotland" and when the ringing applause had subsided gave "Jamie Dear" for an encore. Miss Ida M. White sang "I Love My Love" and an encore being called for sang archly and sweetly "We'd Better Bide a Wee."

All the exercises on the programme were well rendered and seemed to take the fancy of the house, as they were all applauded tiff the roof rang again. It was a most enjoyable feature of the evening.

Dancing followed to the music of an orchestra, while the pipers retired to a side room with their friends and blew away till they cracked the plaster from the walls with their harmonies.

During an intermission in the dancing an old sword of the Knights Templar, that had been through the fire in the Masonie Hall a few months ago, was borrowed from the Times office, and Robbie Burns gave the difficult evolutions of the "Sword Dance," while David Thompson, in his Highland attire played the bagpipe for him. The dance was well done, and Robbie and his piper reaped great applause.

After this the dancing was resumed, and the festivities kept up till nearly midnight. The assembly broke up after a most pleasant evenings's recreation, and the young ladies went heme to keep up the tradition of Hallow E'en by trying to dream of their future husbands.

Another Woman Butchered and Horribly Mutilated in London.

London, Nov. 9.—[By Cable and Associated Press.]—The murder fiend has added another to his list of victims. At 11 o'cleck this morning the body of a woman cut into pieces was discovered in a house on Dorset street, Spitalfield. The remains were mutilated in the same horrible manner as those of the women murdered in Whiteel The head had been severed and place neath one of the arms. The ears and nose had been cut off, the body had been disem-boweled and the flesh torn from the thigh. The womb and other organs are missing.

The skin had been torn off the forebei and cheeks, and one hand had been pushe into the stomach. The victim, like all the others was a prostitute. She was married. Her hus-band is a porter. the habitués of the haunts she visited she was known as Mary Jane. She had a room in the house where she was murdered. She carried a latch-key, and no one knows at what hour she entered the house last night. Probably no one saw the man who accompanied her, therefore it is hardly likely he will every be identified. He might easily have left the house at any hour between 1 and 6 o'clock this morning without attracting attention.

Doctors who have examined the remains refuse to make any statement until an inquest is held. Three bloodhounds belonging to private citizens were taken to the place where the body was found and placed on the scent of the murderer, but were unable to keep it for any great distance, and all hope of running the assassin down with their assistance will have to be abandoned. The murdered woman told a companion last evening that she was without money, and would commit suicide if she did not obtain a supply. It has been learned that a man, respectably dressed, accosted the victim and offered her money. They went to her lodging. No noise was heard during the night, and nothing was known of the murder until the landiady went to the room early this morning to ask for her rent. The first she saw on entering the room was the woman's breasts and viscera lying on the table.

LATER DETAILS—MANY MINERS DEAD.

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—A special from Pittsburgh, Kan., to the Republic gives the following account of the coal mine explosion there this evening: "A terrific explosion, that broke windows in this little village and spread consternation among the innabitants occurred about dusk tonight. The violence of the shock was so great as to hur dishes from shelves and demolish chimneys. Haif an hour after the explosion, villagers, who were preparing to go to the mines, were startled by a ragged, bleeding man, who almost staggered into the arms of the searchers. He said that shaft No. 2 at Frontenac had been destroyed by an explosion, and that all the men in the mine at het time, except himself and a Dane, whom he left bleeding at the mouth of the pit, were undoubtedly dead. Horses were quickly harnessed to wagons, and ha a few minutes villagers were hurrying through the fierce snow and sleet storm which was raging. At the mouth of the mine the tremendons force of the explosion was apparent. There were negrescens in the earth, and the timbers of the hoisting apparatus were shivered and burned. Four gasses were escaping. The Dane who had escaped with the man who had alarmed the villagers lay in the mul with his face covered with blood. For a long time it was thought that he was dead, but he regained consciousness in a few hours, and is now at his home. He cannot speak, and does not know what caused the explosion. His

Together with the Dane, he had ridden in a car to the top of the shaft when the earth seemed to snap beneath him and the next thing he realized was a splashing of snow and water upon his face as he lay with his tomrade in the wreckage above the mine.

SCENES AT THE PIT. There were 160 men in the mine at the time of the explosion, and, as they were at work 112 feet below the surface, it is believed that not one survived the shock, as the explosion must have destroyed everything in the pit. Big fires were built near the mouth of the pit, and beside these blazing piles the wives of the entombed miners placed their children, while they themselves tried by all kinds of entreaties to induce miners from other shafts to enter the pit and rescue their relations.

entombed men before morning. Those who started down the shaft early in the evening say that the shock has destroyed the whole drift, and that it is probable that the men in the lower levels are buried beneath tons of slate. Black damp is supposed to have caused the explosion. Most of the miners at these shafts came originally from the mines of Pennsylvania.

The newspapers of the North are pressing every point for emigration this winter. They claim everything that is booked for this end of the State and are now interviewing railroad people on that point. The Examiner of the 5th inst. has the following to say:

Examiner of the 5th inst has the following to say:

"We are going to have right after election the heaviest emigration to California ever known, 'said J. Meredith Davies, secretary of the State Board of Trade, to an Examiner representative yesterday,

"What are my reasons for saying this? Well, I have four of them. The first is the anusually large quantities of letters we are saily receiving from people who not only want definite information, but state emphatically that they are coming.

"The second reason is the report which W. H. Mills, the agont of the Southern Pacific road, brings back. He has spent a good deal of time recently in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and he has returned, bringing long lists of names of men in these States who expressed to him their positive determination to come. These lists were a succe turned in to the board, and we are formia which they are so anxious to get.

"The third reason is the inquiries of managers for many large parties of colonists, coupled also with their positive statement that they are coming here.

"Yet another reason is the letters shown in from representative agents of castern railreads here. The managers of these roads have written their agents in this city that big travel is imminent, and that they want all the information they can get about this State. Besides this are the yery nattering reports of various excursion agents, such as Raymond & Whitcomb, Buell & Co. of St. Paul, Cottrell and Phillips and others.

particular States, for we have definite information that they are coming from all over.

"W are now formulating a plan to give low rates not only for colonists when they come, but for representatives or colonists who wish to precede them and get land on which to locate them.

"Last week out of several hundred letters we had 125 that stated that the writers, singly and representing colonies, were bound to come. There were 19 of these letters today and 25 yesterday. This will show you a little about the interest manisested in this State.

"Mr. Davies exhibited letters and lists of names sent from various States. One was from the Blue Mountains of Mississippi, inquiring about fruit lands. Another was from C. E. Cummings, Stockdale, Canada, stating that 23 persons were coming under his auspices. From Columbus, O., was a long letter asking for specific information about Tulare, and the chances there for establishing a colony.

"C. L. Jewell wrote from Louisiana and another man from Catlin, Ill. There were many other letters, all expressing determination from the authors to come here and engage in various kinds of business.

"Secretary Davies says there has never before been exhibited such interest in regard to California, and that what with bonadic colonists, and the annual influx of tourists, combined with those who will avoid Florida this winter, there will be a lively time in California."

OLEOMARGERINE.

How to Distinguish Between Good and Bad Butter. A gentleman residing in this city who was tourteen years connected with the grocery business in Boston, Mass., says that the fading of color, or brittleness, are not good tests to discover whether a substance is genuine butter or the bogus article, or compound. This party said the only true test was an analysis made by a chemist who understands his business. If this is not practical by reason of its expensiveness, then the next best test, and a cheap one, is then the next best test, and a cheap one, is what is known among greeery men as the "wick test." This consists of drawing a few threads of lamp-wick through a tub of butter. After this wick has been drawn through it is placed in a saucer and set on thre. You then hold your nose over the fiame and inhale the smoke. If the odor is of a tailow-like or oily smell, it is supposed to be oleomargarine or bogus butter, but if genuine butter the odor will be like the smell of a good creamery.

If the good butter has been mixed with olemargarine or its kindred products, it may generally be detected by a magnifying glass, as the particles of the butter and the grease compound cannot be thoroughly combined. These two methods may be employed by families who are suspicious that what they purchase is not the genuine product of the dairy, but who do not feel ilise employing a chemist to make an analysis.

The gentleman before alluded to said

The gentleman before alluded to said there should be a State law, if there is not now, to protect people who desire to use only the genuine article.

Grocers, he said, only the genuine article. Grocers, he said, should have a sirn up in a conspicuous place, reading: "Oleomargarine for sale." People paying for good butter, whether in stores, hotels or restaurants, should get it. The people are now excited over the kinds of food they are obliged to eat, and the matter should be further agitated. In the Eastern States all tubs of begus butter must be branded "oleomargarine." This is necessary, because it at first the manufacturers use clean tallow and other articles in making it, they soon grow careless and making it, they soon grow careless and begin using the fat of diseased animals, etc.

The coloring of butter is carried on to a large extent, and butter so colored may fade just the same as the bogus butter, so that fading of color is not an infallible test.

of retail sale of such article or substance in parcels or otherwise, the seller shall, in all cases, deliver therewith to the purchaser a printed label bearing the plainly printed word, "oleomargarine," the said word to be printed with type each letter of which shall

Sec. 3. Every person or director, trustee, officer or agent of any corporation, who may violate any provision of this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine-of not less than $5 nor more than $500, or by imprisonment for not more than three months, or by both such fine and imprisonment; and it shall be the duty of the court trying said offense to order the payment of one-half of the fine imposed to the person giving the information upon which the prosecution was based and the conviction had, and such fine may be collected by execution as in civil causes.

He sould not see how it could possibly be re-luced below that figure, and allowing for Republican chances in doubtful districts, as in Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, North Carolina and elsewhere, he confi-lently expected the Republican majority would be found to be nearer 20 than 15.

CABINET GOSSIP.

Half a Dozen Sistes Already Made Up for Harrison.

New York, Nov. 9.—[By the Associated Press.] The Sun's Washington correspondent, speculatingon Harrison's Cabinet, says: "The main consideration of importance is as to whether Harrison will not call Blain to the head of the Cabinet. As call Blaine to the head of his Cabinet. As to this point there is great diversity of opinion among Republicans here, but it is the almost unanimous wish and hope that Blaine may be let severely alone. Even his admirers say the new administration would have a better chance without Blaine than with him. Fully a dozen Cabinet slates have been promulgated here today. Taken together, they contain pretty nearly every Republican name of prominence in the country.

Republican name of prominence in accountry.

"Perhaps the only one of the names that is certain to be found in the final list is that of Col. John C. New of Indianapolis, who lyregarded as the coming Secretary of the Treasury. Almost without doubt Gen. Harrison will put some Indiana man in the Cabinet, and Col. New is the first and only man any one thinks of, and his long and large experience in the Treasury suggests the appropriateness of piacing him at the head of that department. John Sherman is also mentioned for Secretary of State."

ELECTION BETS.

Noteworthy Humors of the Late Campaign.

[Washington Star.]

A local wager which is exciting considerable interest among the friends of the parties is that made between Mr. Joseph Holland, an ardent supporter of President Cleveland, and Mr. Joseph Abel, who believes that Gen. Harrison Abel, who believes that Gen. Harrison will be elected. The terms of the wager are that the one who loses will have to wheel the other in a wheelbarrow from the Navy-yard to the White House.

House.

Two men in Iowa have made, perhaps, the most foolish wager that has yet been recorded. The loser pleiges himself to take ten double compound cathartic pills.

In the town of El Dorado, Ill., 75 In the town of El Dorado, Ill., 75 girls have formed a Republican club, every member having vowed to remain single until Harrison is elected. The young men of the same town to the same number have formed a Democratic club and have all promised not to marry until Cleveland is elected. There will probably be a compromise after the election.

A bretrothed pair in Bridgeton, N. Y., whose engagement was recently announced, have decided to date their wedding day upon the result of the coming election. Should Harrison and coming election. Should Harrison and Morton be elected, they will be married immediately after. Should Cleveland and Thurman be successful, the wed-ding day will be postponed until four years later.

The Louisville Courier-Journal tells The Louisville Courier-Journal tells of a young hatter in that city who says he don't believe anything but Providence can defeat Mr. Cleveland's relection; "but," he added, "if Providence should step in, I will be eternally bankrupt. I have bet all the ready cash I had and all I could borrow, and have nearly a hundred hats up; then I put up my two horses against $200; this afternoon I bet my $400 piano against $100, and not 10 minutes ago bet my overcoat and suitof clothes against $351 ft Cleveland wins I'll fty high; but if If Cleveland wins I'll fly high; but if

If Cleveland wins I'll fly high; but if he loses—"

This is the offer of P. T. Barnum, the great showman: "I will put up $50,000 in cash, binding myself to sell every building and every inch of land which I own in Bridgeport for 25 per cent. less than the present prices if Cleveland and a Democratic majority in both Houses of Congress are elected; and I will give $5000 to any man who will secure a syndicate before the election that will put up a like sum, binding themselves to accept this offer."

The Chicago Herald tells of a realestate man in that city who has been betting a good bit of his money on Cleveland's success this year, and when he spends evenings going round in search of bets he is often obliged to take a drop too much. Thursday night he was out placing his money, and during the evening he bet and posted $50 that Grover would carry Indiana. Friday morning he distinctly remembered that he had put up his money, but for the life of him he could not recall the man with whom he had made the bet or the place where he had put up the money. He says he will be obliged to run along eight squares on the as phaltum pavement.

Ex-Councilman Caswell of Malden, Mass., is an ardent admirer of Harrison and Morton, and John Farrell, a rison and Morton, and John Farrell, a storekeeper on Haymarket Square, Boston, is a red-hot supporter of Cleve-and and Thurman. If Harrison is elected, Farrell agrees to vote the straight Republican ticket for the next four year, including the Presidential election of 1892; and if Cleveland is elected. Caswell agrees to vote the election of 1892; and if Cieveland is elected, Caswell agrees to vote the Democratic ticket for the same period. In Connecticut a great many peculiar bets have been made. Two young men, of Ansonia have made an agreement, one for Harrison and one for Cieveland, that if Harrison is elected, that man was to strap one leg up and hop on the other from the corner in frent of the Sentinel office to Bridge street, a distance of perhaps a quarter of a mile. If he touched anything to prevent his falling, he was to pay for a game supper for four; if he fell, he was to be helped up, and go on again. The Harrison man agreed to do the same act if Cleveland was elected.

In Bridgeport two men have agreed

Harrison man agreed to do the same act if Cleveland was elected.

In Bridgeport two men have agreed to eat, in the presence of a party of friends, a roasted crow, the man whose candidate is defeated to perform the gastronomical feat. The other party is to provide the bird, and the eater is to be allowed to have it cooked at a restaurant in any way he likes, but it is not to be smothered with any kind of sauce. It is to be plain crow.

In Danbury twolgentlemen have hit upon the novel plan of dressing in Mother Hubbard costumes and riding on horseback from C. H. Merritt's hat factory, at one end of the main street, to the Hartford milestone, at the other end. If the Republican loses he is to ride, and at every street crossing he is to stop his horse and shout three times: "The tariff is a tax!" If the Democrat loses he is to exclaim: "A protective tariff creates high wages!" A cavalcade of horsemen and a drum corps is to head the defeated party.

A bet on the New York city Mayoralty contest has been made between a hatter and a livery stable keeper. Whoever loses the bet will have to don a suit of livery, including hat and pipe-clayed breeches, hitch up a pair of horses to a carriage, hand the winner and his wife in, and drive them in state down through the park and Fifth avenue to Fourteenth street and return.

CLEVELAND AND WEST.

Some Points About How Sackville
Was Staukhtered.
George W. Smalley cables the New York Tribune from London that it is a fact that the negotiations between Lord Salisbury and President Cleveland have been amicable throughout. He says the facts are that Lord Salisbury, when Lord Sackville's interference with the American election was first brought to his notice, offered that he should come home on a leave of absence. It is a fact that the American Goyernment was at first disposed to grant the proposal. It is a fact when Mr. Cleveland ate his own words under party pressure and deterposed to grant the proposal. It is a fact when Mr. Cleveland ate his own words under party pressure and determined to give Sackvilla his passports after he had ascertained that this could be done without provoking retaliation. It is a fact that there has been from first to last a good understanding between President Cleveland and Lord Salisbury. He asserts that he has information which dispels the pretense that Mr. Cleveland has been assuming an attitude unfriendly to his English friends. But that is not all. Lord Salisbury explained to the American Government that if he were to recall Lord Sackville it must end or seriously injure his diplomatic career. Whereas he added in substance: "If you send him home it will have no such effect." Upon this hint Mr. Cleveland atted. Smalley quotes from an English writer who, he says, knows what he is talking about: "If Mr. Cleveland is elected Tuesday, he will not forget Salisbury, who, to his great credit, lent no ear to the worse than foolish suggestion that he should take vengeance on the person of Mr. Phelps. Nothing could stay the electroneering anxiety of the party in office but the recall or dismissal with the public's censure of Lord Sackville, and that was not possible for the indiscretion that had been committed." Smalley adds: "Cleveland's was a policy of safe swagger and Salisbury's an attitude of amused, good-tempered indulgence."

SMOKING IN THE DEPARTMENTS Why the Secretary Issued an Order and Then Revoked It.

and Then Revoked It.

[Washington Star.]

The employés of the War Department were surprised yesterday upon receiving a circular order forbidding smoking in any of the rooms or corridors of the building. It was not the first time such an order had been issued, and therefore there was general speculation as to what caused its reissue. The restriction was especially distasteful to some of the higher officials, who enjoy an occasional smoke, and who had been indulging themselves because the old order was not rigidly because the old order was not rigidly enforced. The smokers had just begun enforced. The smokers had just begun to feel their deprivation yesterday, when they were informed that the or-der had been revoked. No one knew what it all meant, but a Star reporter what it all meant, but a star reporter ascertained that a few days ago the Secretary of War, who is, an uncompromising enemy of tobacco, became slightly incensed by an employé smoking a cigar near him. He at once directed that the old order be reissued and enforced. His directions were obeyed, but his atten-tion was called to the fact that the departments which occupy the State War and Navy building have different war and Navy building have different regulations in regard to smoking, and that a Navy Department clerk might stand at the junction of the depart-ment corridors and smoke with impu-aity, although the atmosphere in the War Department might become blue in consequence. After pondering over the anomalous condition of affairs, the the anomalous condition of affairs, the Secretary directed that the order be revoked until he could formulate a plan by which all three of the departments shall be put into the same non-smoking condition. Until the new order is issued the War Department regulation prohibiting the use of smoking tobacco within its precincts will continue in its condition of inocuous desuetude into which it has been allowed to lapse.

One of the most idiotic wagers is reported to have been made in Chester, Pa., where a Republican and a Democrat have made what they call a "hickory race" bet. The terms are that he whose Presidential candidate shall win will have the privilege of whipping the other with a stout stick as they run along eight squares on the asand their fellow-voyagers in the salcon. The ladies' cabin is given up to the Empress, and two gentlemen's cabins are knocked into one for the Emperor; and this is all. The Captain's deck cabin is indeed put at their disposal during the day as a boudoir; but Peter declines to turn the Captain out of it, and spends his time on deck, trotting up and dcwn, asking endless questions of every officer he can waylay to satisfy his unquenchable thirst for information. An Explanation.

What is this "nervous trouble" wit. which so many seem now to be afflicted? If you will remember a few years ago the word malaria was comparatively unknow—today it is as common as any word in the English language, yet this word coversed by the meaning of another word used by our forefathers in times past. So it is with nervous diseases, as they and malaria are intended to cover what our grandfathers called billousness, and all are caused by troubles that arise from a diseased condition of the liver, which, in performing its functions, finding it cannot dispose of the bile through the ordinary channel, is compelled to pass it off through the system, causing nervous troubles, malaria, billourever, etc. You who are suffering can well appreciate a cure. We recommend Green's August Flower. Its cures are marvelous.

A Democrat dressed as a Chinaman will, to pay a bet, wheel a Republican in a wheelbarrow along Requena street to the Plaza at I celock p.m. today. One hundred dollars good money goes with the job.

A BRAVE PATROLMAN.

He Stopped a Runaway and Saved a Little Girl. During the Spring-street fire last night William Pinkham, one of Lawson's patrol-men, saved the life of a little 7-year-old girl. The child was sitting in a buggy on Spring street, when the horse became frightened and started down the street at a rapid rate. At the corner of First the frenzied horse was about to run into a fire engine, when Pinkham ran out and grabbed the horse by the head. The animal drawged the patrolman as far as Court street, when it was checked. The little girl was badly frightened but was not hurt. Mr. Pinkham was considerably bruised, and was carried into a drug store by Capt. Moody, where his bruises were dressed, and he was sent bonna.

A Good Investment for small Sav-ines.

Just fifteen years ago a resident of Kap

Just fifteen years ago a resident of Kansas City purchased from the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York, policy No. 83,188. His annual payments were $343.45, and the total payments for fifteen years amounted to $5181.75.

The policy was for $5000, and if he had died his estate would have received $5000 cash. But he did not die; and after fifteen years of protection has drawn from the society $7357.15 in money.

This is a cash return of $12 for each $100 paid in premiums—4. c., a return of all premiums, with compound interest at the rate of $45°, per cent. per annum. This policy was on the Tontine plan, and its result proves that a life policy when issued by the Equitable on its Tontine plan combines a good investment with the benefits of assurance.

A Great Benefit o he City
On passing No. 19 North Main street, this week, we noticed a large crowd of people in this store, and, on inquiry, we were told the great sale of men's and boys' clothing was going on at 35 cents on the deliar. The trade they were doing was immense and will be a great benefit to the workingmen and salaried people of this country, saving them many doilars in the future. We predict a great success for the Plunder Store.
